vived hope for the safety of the vessel and 180 persons on board.

The wireless was not sufficiently strong enough to give the location of the vessel but indicated that she had survived a tempestuous night and that there was still a chance for her passengers and crew.

The Canada Northern liner Royal George caught the cry of distress three times and heard the steamer Lady Laurier replying, asking for the location of the Cobequid, but no response from the Cobequid could be made out. The Lady Laurier went out from Halifax yesterday to take part in the search and ought to be near the wreck today. It is still believed that the Cobequid struck on one of the Grand Manan ledges and that Captain Howson mistook the point for Briar Island, when he first called for assistance yesterday.

During the forenoon wedgeback began to come ashore on the Yarmouth side of the Bay of Fundy. It was apparently from a steamer and made plain from the weather conditions during the past 24 hours that some vessel, perhaps the Cobequid, was on the ledges of Grand Manan and that part of the upper works had been swept away.

The weather conditions were a little more favorable for the search for the Cobequid today, although a dense mist still hung over the waters. The snow storm had passed, but the temperature remained several degrees below zero and a thirty knot northeaster whipped the sea. Hope for the vessel rests chiefly on the efforts of the United States revenue cutter Woodbury and the Canadian government steamer Lady Laurier.

TWENTY-EIGHT BELOW
COLDEST IN NEW ENGLAND

Boston, Jan. 14.—The crest of the season's first cold wave passed over New England early today when the winter's lowest records were made. The coldest point in New England was Northfield, Vermont, where 28 below zero was registered. Nantucket was the warmest place, with a minimum of two below.

The northwest gale continued today, but with lessened velocity.

FIVE MEMBERS OF CREW OF SCHOONER SAVED

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Jan. 14.—Five members of the crew of the schooner John Paul, which sank in Nantucket sound early yesterday morning were saved as they were being swept to sea by the crew of the Cross Rip lightship. The cook died from exposure just before the rescue of his companions.

Five survivors of the crew of the schooner G. M. Porter, Perth Amboy for Chile, which was left in a leaking condition off Port Gammon, are also safe at the Cross Rip lightship.

NO TRACE DISCOVERED OF THE SCHOONER GRETA

Hyannis, Mass., Jan. 14.—Twenty-four hours' search of Nantucket sound by the revenue cutter Acushnet and two lighthouse tenders failed to reveal any trace today of the schooner Greta of Dahlousie, N. B., which disappeared from near Cross Rip lightship during the gale on Monday night. It was believed that the crew had either been swept far out to sea or had foundered with its crew of six.

BIG LINER UNABLE TO GO TO COBEQUID'S HELP

New York, Jan. 14.—Because of the extremely high seas, cold weather and shortage of coal, the North German Lloyd steamer Kron Prinzessin Cecilia made no effort to change her course and go to the rescue of the steamer Cobequid, stranded in the Bay of Fundy.

Captain Pollack of the Kron Prinzessin, in port from Bremen, made this report when his vessel reached quarantine this afternoon.

Shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday morning he said he picked up a wireless message from the Marconi station at Cape Sable saying that the Cobequid was ashore and needed assistance. "At the time," continued the captain, "a howling gale prevailed and the distressed steamer was 25 miles distant. We were making only seven knots barely steerageway. Our coal was running short and the wind was so violent that we deemed it inadvisable to attempt to reach her."

The executive committee of the Republican party of Bernalillo county met at the office of Eliego Baca, chairman, at 11 a. m., Wednesday, January 14, 1914. Sub-Committee of Citizens
Commission Makes Request for Permission for Expert Examination of Records.

The sub-committee of the citizens water works commission, consisting of Neil B. Field, P. F. McGinnis and W. W. Strong, called on A. E. McMullen, president of the Water Supply company late yesterday afternoon and submitted to Mr. McMullen the proposal of the committee that the company submit its books and records for the past ten years to an examination by an expert accountant to be chosen by the city council, with the purpose of furnishing the council and the water commission a report of the book value of the company's plant, its earnings and operating expenses for years for the period.

The committee and the water company president discussed the proposal at some length and at the conclusion of the conference Mr. McMullen stated that he desired time to consider the request and would take it under advisement.

This morning, asked if he had anything to say on the matter, Mr. McMullen said he did not care to discuss it, but would make his reply to the committee in writing within a short time.

Mr. Field, the chairman of the sub-committee, leaves tonight for New York and Washington for a short stay. There will be no further meeting of the citizens' commission pending the receipt of the water company's reply.

LEG EFFLU WHEN TEAM RUNS AWAY

Ranchman From West Side of River Suffers Serious Accident
at Second Street End of Viaduct.

J. H. Taylor, a ranchman living on the west side of the river, suffered a broken leg, and a wagonload of furniture which he was hauling across the Coal arroyo viaduct was badly shattered when the team ran away shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, overturning the wagon at the Second street end of the viaduct.

Taylor was engaged in aiding a neighbor with some moving. The wagon which was heavily loaded with furniture had no brake, and ran up on the horses as he was driving down the viaduct slope and the team bolted. The spill came at the bottom of the viaduct, scattering furniture in all directions. Taylor's right leg was broken between knee and ankle. Strong Bros. ambulance responded quickly and the injured man was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where the fracture was set at once.
